

Isolated at home
In our rooms all alone
No people to be seen
We're in quarantine

Zoom calls all day
Friends are miles away
No more face to face
Six feet of space

When this is over
Will we recover?
Only one thing is certain
I am not the same person

Even if we let
Ourselves forget
This will always be
Part of our history