

A Message

This message is to you Society.
Listen to me carefully, As I explain what has been happening lately!
We have forgotten all about diversity, and we pick and choose our colors endlessly.
Where am I going with this you will see?
As I examine my colors and match them to Earth's Beauty.
I open my eyes widely what do I see?
The yellow sun shining so brightly, orange rays shimmering radiantly.
Green trees standing lively, blue jays singing peacefully.
White clouds moving quickly, brown tree trunks standing strongly.
Red roses standing by vibrantly, the black night sky so sparkly.
Purple leaves flying calmly.
Do you see what I see? A community!
Holding each other tightly, smiling endlessly!
Walking on Earth freely
We are such a beautiful variety.
This is the message to you Society.
Live together in equality!
For the sake of humanity!
I spread this message openly,
Because I love you dearly!
